Dear Friends, the Chaplaincy is hoping to run a pop up homeware stall of free, preloved, kitchenware for students. This will save students' money and make a great contribution to protecting the environment. Would your church be willing to help collect items? The pop up will be held in the University's library at Wolverhampton for the week beginning 19th supported by chaplaincy staff, we will make sure we mention the Churches that have been able to support us. Right now we haven't scheduled anything for Walsall but if we can get sufficient support we will. We're hoping for donations of good quality kitchen items for students settling into university life. Saucepans, utensils, baking equipment, anything, other than electrical items, that is useful in cooking a good meal. Not only does this event save our students money it also gives a second life to reusable unwanted equipment. Items can be donated at the chaplaincy on Molineux Street, WV1 1DT between 9am and 5pm Monday to Friday or FROM 14th September dropped off in the Harrison Learning Centre. The stall will be hosted in the library throughout Welcome Week. Items are free but anyone wishing to offer a donation can contribute to the Chaplaincy's ongoing Toilet Twinning programme. Get in touch if you have any other questions, with thanks, Sarah. More details from chaplaincy@wlv.ac.uk Lead Chaplain Reverend Sarah Schofield PG. Cert. M.Phil. If you cannot give directly, feel free to leave any items in church on Sunday, 12 September and we shall deliver for you. Thank you.
